Information Choices

By providing the Company with User’s email address, User agrees that the Company may communicate with User for marketing or informational purposes in regard to the Company’s Site, Services, Licensed Application, and/or Platform. The Company offers choices about the types of information User receives from the Company from such email communications. If User no longer wish to receive such email communications, User may unsubscribe the using the link provided in the email communication or by sending the Company an email at customer@streamentertainment.net.

Interactions with Other Parties, Websites, and Applications

Social media platforms	Use of The Company’s Site, Services, Licensed Application, and/or Platform may permit User to interact with social media platforms operated by unaffiliated other parties. If User chooses to interact with or share content or post information using a social media platform, that information may be publicly displayed, and the party operating the other platform may receive certain information about User and User’s use of the Company’s Site, Services, Licensed Application, and/or Platform. The Company may have access to information about User from a social media platform and User mentions or comments made on a social media platform operated by another party. If User interacts with a social media platform and User mentions or comment about the Company or the Company’s Site, Services, Licensed Application, and/or Platform in User’s post on another platform, that platform may allow the Company to publish User’s post on the Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform. In addition, the Company may receive information about User if a customer on a social media platform gives the Company access to their profile and User is one of their connections, or information about User is otherwise accessible through that customer. User may also choose to interact with social media platforms if User creates an account and/or log in to the Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform with User’s access credentials from another website or online service (e.g., by using “Facebook Connect”). Accessing the Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform in this way may allow the Company to collect (or the other party to share with the Company) information about User. The Company is not responsible for another party’s privacy policy or terms of use or User’s decision to interact with another party. The Company does not exercise any control over, and is not responsible for, the privacy and security practices of other parties’ websites and applications. The Company strongly encourages User to review the privacy policies on any website or application User visits or otherwise interact with.
Sweepstakes and promotions	The Company may operate sweepstakes and promotions (e.g., contests, raffles, etc.) either jointly sponsored or offered by other parties that may require submitting information. If User chooses to participate in such sweepstakes and promotions, User’s information may be disclosed to other parties as described in the terms applicable to that particular sweepstakes or promotion. Insofar as the terms applicable to a particular sweepstakes or promotion conflict with this Policy, the terms applicable to the sweepstakes or promotion shall control.
Other services	Services on the Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform may be linked to or otherwise rely on integrations with other websites, applications, interfaces, and/or platforms operated by other parties (e.g., PayPal). Information shared with such parties may be shared with the Company and the Company may combine that information with other information the Company has about User that the Company obtains from other parties. In the event User submits information to another party, User is subject to that other’s party’s privacy policy and terms of use as applicable. The Company is not responsible for another party’s privacy policy or terms of use or User’s decision to interact with another party.
Website links	Links to other websites or applications of other parties may be provided to User on the Company’s Site, Licensed Application. The Company provides such links to other websites and applications of other parties because the Company think User may enjoy or may mind find them to be use full to User. The websites and applications of other parties operate independently of the Company and have their own established privacy and security policies. The Company does not exercise any control over, and is not responsible for, the privacy and security practices of other parties’ websites and applications. The Company strongly encourages User to review the privacy policies on any website or application User visits or otherwise interact with.

Information Security

The security of User’s information is important to the Company, and the Company takes steps to ensure that User’s information is treated securely and in accordance with this Policy. The Company takes reasonable measures to protect User’s personal information from loss, theft, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. Although the Company will do the Company’s best to protect User’s information, the Company cannot guarantee the security of User’s information transmitted through the Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform or in User’s written communications to the Company. Transmission via the Internet and online digital storage are not completely secure, so the Company cannot guarantee the security of User’s information collected through the use of the Services, transmission is at User’s own risk.

Children’s Privacy

The Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform are not intended for children under 13 years of age. The Company does not knowingly allow anyone under the age of 13 to utilize the Company’s Services, including, but not limited to, those that may be offered through the Company’s Site, Licensed Application, and/or Platform. The Company does not knowingly collect personal information from any individual under 13 years of age. If the Company learns that an individual is under 13 and has submitted personal information to the Company, the Company will delete such personal information promptly in accordance with Applicable Law.

California Residents

California’s “Shine the Light” law (Civil Code Section § 1798.83) permits California residents to request certain information regarding the Company’s disclosure of User’s personal information to third parties for their own direct marketing purposes. The Company does not share personal information for third parties for their own direct marketing purposes. As a California resident, User may request information about the Company’s compliance with this law by contacting the Company at the following email address: customer@streamentertainment.net. Any such request must include “California Shine The Light Request” in the first line of the description and include User’s name, physical address, city, state, and ZIP code. Please note that the Company is only required to respond to one request per individual each year.
